

MONTHLY EDITORIAL ROUNDUP

September 2026

Superyachtoday

New flagships, innovation and bespoke luxury.

12

ARTICLES

English Edition · Illustrated summaries
Clickable contents and original English sources

Cover: Sirena 118 IKIGAI · Image published by the magazine

01 / THE MONTH

September at a glance

Cannes puts Sirena 118 and Galeon 800 FLY in the spotlight. Monaco introduces the electric sailing Sunreef 100 Eco. Custom projects, adaptable interiors and Italian suppliers round out a month where product launches meet innovation across the English edition.

12

articles included

36

posts across languages

12 EN

English source articles

THE MONTH IN NUMBERS

EDITORIAL PERSPECTIVE

Personalisation connects shipyards, designers and suppliers. Electrification, flexible spaces and well-being on board recur throughout the magazine's coverage.

Article contents

New models and shipyards

p. 4

Sunreef 100 Eco: Ipharra looks ahead

Sirena 118: IKIGAI debuts in Cannes

Galeon 800 FLY: a new flagship

Shipyards and custom visions

p. 5

Amels 60 Project Vogue: Italian style

Tankoa launches the full-hybrid TX450

Arcane Era and Nova: two 55m visions

Innovation and industry

p. 6

VMG 53: interiors that change function

ENATA invests in Manta Foils

Cannes 2026: the curtain rises

Suppliers and lifestyle

p. 7

Stella brings well-being on board

Lanerossi and Ferretti: Italian comfort

Kerbedanz: mechanics in the spotlight

Five must-reads and methodology / p. 8

03 / THE ARTICLES

New models and shipyards

01 / 04 · Images and summaries from English sources

Image from the magazine

25 Sep 2026 · English source

Sunreef 100 Eco: Ipharra looks ahead

Delivered to its owner and presented in Monaco, Ipharra combines sailing with electric propulsion. More than 250 m² of Solar Skin generate up to 49 kWp, alongside a 770 kWh battery pack. Family cruising and educational voyages share the same platform.

READ THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE →

Image from the magazine

14 Sep 2026 · English source

Sirena 118: IKIGAI debuts in Cannes

Sirena's 36-metre composite flagship combines naval design by German Frers with interiors by Cor D. Rover. Beach-club balconies and connected outdoor spaces shape life on board. An optional split-level owner's suite extends the scope for personalisation.

READ THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE →

Image from the magazine

10 Sep 2026 · English source

Galeon 800 FLY: a new flagship

The 25.71-metre flagship brings flexible outdoor lounges, a sociable cockpit and a hydraulic bathing platform to Cannes. Two 1,920 hp engines provide a reported top speed of around 31 knots. The layout balances entertaining, guest comfort and practical use.

READ THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE →

03 / THE ARTICLES

Shipyards and custom visions

02 / 04 · Images and summaries from English sources

Image from the magazine

03 Sep 2026 · English source

Amels 60 Project Vogue: Italian style

Under construction for delivery in 2027, the 60-metre, 853 GT Project Vogue pairs an established Amels platform with bespoke interiors by Laura Sessa. Espen Øino designs the exterior; Damen Yachting develops naval architecture. A private owner's lounge opens onto a folding balcony.

READ THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE →

Image from the magazine

02 Sep 2026 · English source

Tankoa launches the full-hybrid TX450

The newly launched TX450 is a fully custom yacht below 500 GT, developed with Giorgio Cassetta. An extra deck and wider beam distinguish it from the T450 platform. Full-hybrid propulsion combines engines, electric motors and batteries; sea trials precede delivery.

READ THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE →

Image from the magazine

23 Sep 2026 · English source

Arcane Era and Nova: two 55m visions

RMK Yachts presents two concepts with Espen Øino International and Giorgio Cassetta. Arcane Nova places the wheelhouse forward to free up the sundeck; Era follows a more traditional arrangement. Both explore sheltered outdoor living and closer connections to the sea.

READ THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE →

03 / THE ARTICLES

Innovation and industry

03 / 04 · Images and summaries from English sources

Image from the magazine

17 Sep 2026 · English source

VMG 53: interiors that change function

Christophe Chedal Anglay's interiors adapt to offshore passages, private retreats and social use. Folding doors, retractable partitions and variable-opacity glass let rooms change function. Cork flooring and custom materials complete the approach; first delivery is scheduled for January 2027.

READ THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE →

Image from the magazine

22 Sep 2026 · English source

ENATA invests in Manta Foils

ENATA takes a minority stake in Manta Foils, extending an existing carbon-composites partnership into engineering, research and industrialisation. The ambition is scalable electric hydrofoil technology, including opportunities with third-party builders and development infrastructure in Abu Dhabi.

READ THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE →

Image from the magazine

08 Sep 2026 · English source

Cannes 2026: the curtain rises

The opening report sets out 700 boats, 680 exhibitors and nearly 150 world premieres, with 56,000 visitors expected—not a final attendance count. Vieux Port and Port Canto span motor, sailing and brokerage markets. The Innovation Route features 47 proposals.

READ THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE →

03 / THE ARTICLES

Suppliers and lifestyle

04 / 04 · Images and summaries from English sources

Image from the magazine

22 Sep 2026 · English source

Stella brings well-being on board

Rubinetterie Stella enters the superyacht sector at Monaco, marking the Roma series' centenary. Its Freestanding Shower combines marble, glass and externally adjustable water temperature. Bronze fittings and more than 60 finishes support a proposition centred on bespoke interiors.

READ THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE →

Illustrative image published by the magazine

28 Sep 2026 · English source

Lanerossi and Ferretti: Italian comfort

The renewed partnership brings the Casa Lanerossi approach to Ferretti Group yachts. Merino wool, cashmere, cushions and bed linen emphasise tactile comfort and everyday life on board. Practical textile choices connect the experience of a yacht interior with the familiarity of home.

READ THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE →

Image from the magazine

05 Sep 2026 · English source

Kerbedanz: mechanics in the spotlight

The MAXSPOR GR8 41mm monopusher places its regulating organ on the dial. The automatic KRB14-2 movement offers a 48-hour power reserve inside a grade 5 titanium case. Limited series and hand-finishing frame the watch as a blend of mechanical ingenuity and exclusivity.

READ THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE →

Five must-reads

- 01 Sunreef 100 Eco: Ipharra looks ahead
Solar and electric technology in a yacht already delivered.
- 02 Tankoa launches the full-hybrid TX450
A custom project with full-hybrid propulsion.
- 03 ENATA invests in Manta Foils
An industrial investment in electric hydrofoil technology.
- 04 VMG 53: interiors that change function
Adaptable interiors for different ways of sailing.
- 05 Sirena 118: IKIGAI debuts in Cannes
The debut of the shipyard's new flagship.

METHODOLOGY AND SOURCES

WordPress API census available on 12 October 2026, covering publication dates from 1 to 30 September. All 12 English-edition articles are included. The 36-post multilingual corpus also contains 12 Italian and 12 French posts; those versions are excluded from this English census.

Summaries are based on the English articles, not translated from the Italian roundup. Dates and clickable links refer to the English edition. Figures and performance claims are attributed to the magazine, not independently verified.

Images come from the articles and include project visualisations. The Lanerossi image is labelled illustrative: its source filename indicates generated imagery. Some articles credit a press agency or press office. Expected event attendance is not treated as a final count.